three classifications of drugs are being misused most often -- painkillers, depressants to treat anxiety disorders, and stimulants used as a medication for attention deficit hyperactivity disorder.

it tastes great with nearly everything, from salads, to sautees, to dehydrated or cooked chips and breads